

Ti-Works Co-Working Space Guidelines & Pricing

ABOUT US: The Ti-Works Co-Working Space is a joint venture between the Ticonderoga Revitalization Alliance and Mary Sears/Anthony Mazzotte LLC, the landlord of 174 Lake George Avenue. The space includes eight desks, each furnished with an office chair, a conference room with a whiteboard and seating for six people, a privacy room with a desk, and a common lounge space. Users will have access to a color printer/scanner, kitchenette with refrigerator, coffeemaker, microwave, broadband Internet service, and an ADA accessible bathroom. There is also excellent cell phone reception for all carriers from anywhere in the space.

The space is meant to be a shared workspace for individuals that are either working remotely from their headquarters/offices or self-employed individuals that need a quiet, professional location from which to work. This can take the form of a dedicated desk rented on a monthly basis, to weekly rentals while visiting the area, to drop-in hourly usage of the space, and everything in between.

Ti-Works walls showcase a variety of art, for sale, by local artists. Our staff can provide more information.

TI-WORKS CO-WORKING SPACE RULES

We have very few rules, but we are adamant about them.

- 1) Be kind and considerate of others. People are here to get work done. While camaraderie is encouraged, please be considerate of any noise or distractions while others are working. Also if you use the last of the paper, toilet paper, or the ink needs replacing in the printer, restock it. And don't steal other people's food from the fridge. Bad form.
- 2) Respect the space. Please treat this space and its contents better than you would treat your own. Keep the kitchenette clean, the toilet paper stocked, and the fridge free of science experiments. It represents someone else's hard work that made this project possible. It would break their heart if it was abused.
- 3) If something breaks or needs attention, please email Donna at Ti-Alliance to let her know. No blame. Things wear out, accidents happen, systems need attention. We just need to be able to keep everything in good shape.
- 4) Pay Up. This workspace needs to be self-sustaining. Everyone needs to pay their share so that it continues to be available to those that need it. Payment is on an honor system and we would love you to extend your time with us. But please don't abuse our trust.

TI-WORKS CO-WORKING SPACE COVID-SAFE PROTOCOLS

The safety of everyone in this workspace is our number one concern. People working here may be especially vulnerable or be protecting others that are vulnerable. Our staff is fully vaccinated. Above all, please be respectful of others.
